TV Production Receives Praise

"The Dancers," presented by the Hartnell college community playhouse Sunday afternoon on KSBW, Channel 8, was well received by the public, according to Mr. Hal Ulrici, director of the production.

There were numerous phone calls made and letters written to the TV station congratulating the cast and director on its production.

The play, which was once produced on the Philco Television playhouse, is the best of the four plays presented on Channel 8 by the college-community group, stated Mr. Ulrici. He also asked Hartnell students who saw the play to write to the TV station saying why they liked it, if they did.

Ulrici Pleased

The play told the story of two young people, played by Robert Smith and Elizabeth Everton, who were ready to begin college and were socially insecure. By finding one another and gaining confi-

Questionnaire Sent to Graduates

Dr. Lionel Olsen, dean of student personnel, is studying the graduates of Hartnell in the classes of 1948 and 1953.

He sends questionnaires to all the students in the classes to find out where they transferred or what kind of job they hold if they were terminal students.

This study helps Hartnell to improve its service to its students in the curriculum, guidance and extracurricular activities offered.

The questionnaire also asked them reasons why Hartnell did a good job or a poor job in preparing them for transfer or an occupation after graduation. It also asked what extracurricular activities they participated in and of what value they were. The respondents are able to add any other statements they wish about Hartnell.

Prom Committee Ready

Delegates Okay Hartnell Proposal At Oakland Meet

Hartnell introduced one resolution which was passed at the northern California junior college student government conference Saturday at Oakland junior college.

The resolution, introduced by Sandy Epperson in the social activities workshop, was to establish uniform admission prices for post-game activities within the athletic leagues of the colleges attending the conference. It passed the general assembly, and is now standard procedure for the schools that attended the conference.

The resolution to establish the office of state historian was defeated in the student government workshop. The resolution to have a representative of the state department of education present at the state conference passed the student government workshop with a

Engineers' Exams To Be Held Soon

Examination date for students who plan to enroll in upper division engineering at San Jose State college next fall has been announced by Mr. Clifford Swanson, Hartnell's dean of admission.

These students must take the examination on April 19 at San Jose State. Application blanks are available at the registrar's office. They must be completed and mailed to the college's engineering department not later than April 5.

Applicants' eligibility includes completion of or enrollment in courses amounting to 12 units of mathematics beyond trigonometry, 12 units of college level physics with calculus as a prerequisite, 10 units of lower division engineering and eight units of college level chemistry.

Ponting Files Petition For Presidential Post

The student commission has set April 21 and 22 for the student body general election. Filing of petition for candidacy started March 24 and will continue until April 9. Campaigning starts April 10 and ends with an April 18 assembly.

As of Monday, Claude Ponting filed petition for the presidential office.

President Alex Zermeno recently appointed three students to the committee on constitutional revision. They are to recommend necessary changes in the constitution prior to the election.

Changes Pondered

The students include Chairman Ponting with Pete Burlison and Rosalie Mascovich as members.

Ponting said that in the past the following positions, with the exception of the commissioner of finance, were elective: president, vice-president, secretary, commissioners of social activities, rallies and assemblies.

Other elective offices include associated men's president, associated women's president, sophomore class representative and head yell leader.

The commissioner of finance is usually appointed by the student commission upon the recommendation of the comptroller.

Dean Announces Class Deadline For Withdrawal

The last day for withdrawing from classes is March 28, according to Mr. Clifford Swanson, dean of admissions. If a student withdraws from a class after the final date, he will receive an "F" instead of a "W."

A student should know whether he is going to drop a class or not by the final date, Mr. Swanson said. The only excuse for dropping a class after March 28 is if a doctor recommends that a student carry a half load, in which case it would be referred to the academic council. Council members are Mr. Swanson, Miss June Handley, Dr. Lionel Olson and Vice-President Stuart Dufour.

Trustees Cancel Debt on Furniture

The district board of trustees has released the Associated Student Body from further allocating annual sums in payment of a furniture debt.

In a move taken March 18, the board decided that it would no longer be necessary that the student body set aside a yearly $750 for the student union furniture.

The board in 1955 requested the student body to appropriate $5,700 to be paid out in 10 years.

The recent board action is based upon the condition that the student body maintain a reasonable upkeep of the furniture.

Eureka! Gold!

Mother Lode Offers $ $ $ To Modern Prospectors

By JACK L. SANDY

If you happen to see three sourdoughs with long beards packing picks and shovels through the halls of Hartnell, don't be alarmed. If you look closely you will find these three mysterious characters are John Mills, Joe Amaral and Larry Fitzwater.

In an effort to prove that the famous California gold rush isn't over yet, the three of them will be heading for the hills during Easter vacation to pan for gold in the Mother Lode area surrounding the Feather and American rivers.

Mills, who has had some experience at this sort of thing, has been doing some research on mineral resources, and he has also brought himself up to date on all the legal technicalities involved in gold mining. He says he has done some previous panning around Hornitos Ghost Town and Merced.

The boys will be leaving on the first day of Easter vacation in "Volkswagen," Amaral's German mule. They will leave the car at Mother Lode and pack into the hills for an undetermined distance. Mills, an ex-navy cook, will fry the bacon and open the cans of pork and beans.

The current price for gold is $35 per ounce, although the price may go up if the present recession does not come to an end, Mills predicts.

Students Must Share Responsibility

In the fall of 1955 our student union was opened. It is a memorial to the late John B. Lemos and cost $106,000. The student body was requested to help pay for the furniture at $570 per year for ten years.

Upon the request of Dr. J. F. Ching, the board of trustees has decided to rescind this year's payment and any further payments because of the financial status of the student body and because the building has been used for other than faculty and student affairs.

The only stipulation is that the student body take care of the student union furnishings and equipment. If the student union facilities are not given proper care the trustees may require resumption of payments.

That is the story, students. But it isn't the resumption of payments that we should think about when we give the student union the proper care it should have, rather it is the faith that the board of trustees and Dr. Ching have in us.

Are we adult enough to give the student union proper care, or are we just overgrown children who will let the lounge furniture go to the dogs because we don't have to pay for it?

Special Committee Holds Discussion About Curriculum

Hartnell's role in the preparation of students for business careers was discussed at the meeting of the citizens' committee on curriculum Monday night in the Hartnell cafeteria.

The committee is composed of prominent business men from the Salinas area. The purpose of the committee is for business men to suggest courses they think should be added to the Hartnell curriculum to prepare students for business careers.

The committee also discussed the future of the college in its possibilities for growth and enrollment.

Mr. Lyman Fowler told the committee of the preparation Hartnell A and M is giving students for jobs, and Mr. Stuart Dufour reported on the preparation being given on the Homestead avenue campus.

Team captains of La Reata sale contest met in the finance office March 20 to discuss ways of creating more sales. They decided to hang posters and to maintain a booth in the main hall so that more people will have a chance to buy the yearbook, according to Darold Coelho, sales captain.

Only 300 La Reatas have been sold. The goal is 500 yearbooks which leaves a total of 200 books to be sold, Coelho stated. Coelho added that the members connected with the sales are wondering why people are not buying La reata after they voted for it.

Student Lounge Being Built By Hartnell A&M Students

By BETTY LIONEL

A new student-sponsored lounge is in the process of being constructed at the Hartnell A and M, according to Mr. Lyman Fowler, A and M director.

College students are financing the project from income obtained by selling soft drinks at the A and M. The student lounge will be one of the old agriculture buildings which will be remodeled.

The idea of having a student lounge at the A and M came out of a meeting of the shop representatives. It was decided that instead of spending all the money on the annual barbecue, that they should spend it on something that could be used by other students in the future. The project has been under way for three weeks and is expected to be finished a couple of weeks after Easter vacation.

The room will be 12 by 20 feet and will have mahogany paneling. The roof will be made of special 32 by 16 inch insulated blocks, and the floor will be made of asbestos tile flooring. The student lounge will be composed of a main lounge and a side compartment where candy, soft drinks, milk and other foods will be sold. The A and M college students plan to buy the furniture and supplies from their soft drink income.

Chairman for the project is Frank Caso. Some of the many students who are working on the project in their spare time are Bill Davlin, Frank Alioto, Don Cowan, Larry Sale, Otis Littman and Caso.

Rattlesnake Enters Life Of Laboratory Assistant

Holding a rattlesnake by the back of its head with a large pair of tweezers and forcing food into its mouth with another pair is all in a day's work for Marvin Kinsey, one of the many students employed on the Hartnell college campus.

Kinsey is the general utility man in the natural science laboratory. Among his duties in caring for the animals and cleaning out their cages, is the task of feeding the rattlesnake as well as cleaning out its cage. Kinsey sees no danger in this occupation, even though he once had to feed a young black Pacific rattler by hand.

Actually the snake was held by the back of its head with a pair of king-size tweezers and the food was forced into its mouth with a pair of smaller tweezers. The result? The snake died! When asked if the rattlers had ever struck at him, Kinsey replied, "Yes, but the door was closed in time."

Studies Animals

Kinsey, who is a life science major, has been working in the laboratory since his freshman year at Hartnell. He says he took the job because he is interested in life science. The work gives him an excellent chance to study the animals in the laboratory.

Other occupations in which students are employed at Hartnell include clerking in the bookstore, where Allen Plake, Joe Bass, Fred Olin, Ed Gunther, Janice Johnson and Charleen Pfeiffer are employed.

Janice Gillette and Don Osborn are employed in the Hartnell library.

Assists in AV Department

Miss Gillette's duties include shelving books, putting magazines away, entering and stamping magazines and books. Osborn assists Mrs. Susan Handley in the audio-visual department, maintains all the big equipment, moves equipment to classes, and takes care of mailing films.

In the office Carol Ann Stewart works at the switchboard from 1 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. She has been working in the office for two weeks.

Typist Aids Coaches

Bob Kennedy and Phil Netto are employed in the Men's gymnasium doing general gymnasium work.

Esther Devalos works as a typist for the coaches three hours every afternoon.

In Dr. Jerome Holmes' chemistry laboratory, John S. Wilson, Joseph Cooper, Forester Ferreira, Leland Phillips, Owen Stewart, John Snow and Harry Flint, Jr., work as laboratory assistants. Their duties include making up the solutions, giving out supplies, and assisting Dr. Holmes.

Sue Cassidy does clerical work for Mrs. Jack Middaugh. She takes care of correspondence and keeps medical records. Terrie LaMacchia does four hours a week playing the piano for Mrs. Middaugh's dancing classes.

In the cafeteria, Ramar Beauchamp, Frank Padilla, Ron Leonti, Bob Harrison, John Moore, Bill Beretta and Julian Aguilar are employed as dish washers.

Women Veterans Get Paid For Attending Hartnell

By SANTIAGO FLORES

How would you like to go to school and get paid for it?

With 15 years served under Uncle Sam's forces between them, two women veterans, Judith Brown and Mrs. Sadie Simpson, are enrolled at Hartnell under the Korean GI benefits bill.

Miss Brown started her English majoring career this spring. "I'll probably switch to education and eventually teach," she thought.

By the end of this year she expects to go to Germany at her own expense and continue her education "either in Munich or Heidelberg," she said.

Served in Original WAAC

She served three years with the Woman's Army Auxiliary corps. She received her military training at Fort McClellan, Ala., in 1954 and served her succeeding two years as clerk at the army intelligence center at Fort Holabird, Md.

"I was very unhappy I never got to see overseas assignments," she added with regret.

Mrs. Simpson will finish her 12-month licensed vocational nurse training by the end of this semester. Then she hopes to work at Fort Ord where she got out of uniform in June after 12 years' service.

She entered service in 1943 "when the corps was still known as the Woman's Army Auxiliary corps," she recalled.

Trained in Florida

She was trained in Daytona Beach, Fla., and was stationed there for a year. Subsequently, she was assigned to work in an outpatient clinic at Camp Davis, N.C.

She went back into civilian life in 1946 and undertook a year of study in cosmetology, an art in beauty treatment. Consequently, she proceeded to work for three years until her recall and assignment to personnel section at Fort Lewis, Wash., at the outbreak of the Korean conflict.

In 1953 she got her first overseas assignment taking care of 1,200 military children, from kindergarten to 12th grade, at the American dispensary in Heidelberg, Germany.

While in Germany Mrs. Simpson found time to visit 14 countries including France, Italy, Spain, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Austria, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Monaco, England, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Azores.

Five years ago she married M/Sgt. Albert Simpson, a veteran of 23 years' service himself. He is with the ordnance at Fort Ord. Sergeant and Mrs. Simpson make their home at 61 Mission Field road, Carmel.

Five-Way Meet Scheduled Today

The San Jose State frosh will host San Jose junior college, East Contra Costa, Santa Rosa and Hartnell in a five-way track meet today at 3 p.m. It will be the first regular meet competition for the Panthers.

This will be a good display of the two colleges expected to battle the Panthers for the Coast conference championship.

Santa Rosa was added to the list of entries when rain postponed a Hartnell - Santa Rosa - San Jose meet last week.

Hartnell Nine Meets Prison In Twin Bill

An improving Hartnell nine travels to Soledad tomorrow to take on a prison squad. The Panthers showed marked improvement in their last few games and with their pitchers coming around they should be tough.

Coach Jess Regli's abbreviated pitching staff, consisting of three hurlers, is a major problem, but big bats have proved efficient and a capable offense may make up for defensive lacks.

Nick Scurich has been hitting consistently along with Frank Filice and Ken Blanton to give the Harts a boost.

Nelson Foreman, Bill Beretta and Bob Beretta should all be ready for the twin bill, so it is doubtful as to who will start although all will no doubt see action.

Probable starting lineup includes: Wayne Ketchum, catcher; Nick Scurich, first base; Ken Blanton, second base; Frank Filice, third base; Aubrey Woods, shortstop; and Bill Beretta, Dave Castro and Merle Young in the outfield.

Sport Slants

By WAYNE UMBERTIS

Those hectic weeks of rains and cancellations are here again to plague sportswriters. The muddy tracks and wet baseballs that hamper performances, give little indication as to actual ability. They also thwart important deadlines and generally play havoc with reporters in oft postponed events. The rescheduling and quick promotion of events already have this reporter in a dither.

As if Coach Jess Regli didn't have enough to worry about with only three hurlers, he now has to contend with the sore arm his number one chucker has come up with. Bob Beretta's ailing arm would seem damage enough, but Frank Filice, the regular third baseman and one of the leading hitters is also inactive with a troublesome ankle.

The field strength of Hartnell's tracksters must be pleasing to Coach G. Ed Adams. Their display of power at the recent Coast conference relays was an awesome sight. They annexed the pole vault, high jump, broad jump, and discus to run away with the relays title.

Hartnell Thinclads Meet All-Stars, Hartsell Top Panther Contestant

By Wayne Umbertis

Coach G. Ed Adams' Hartnell thinclads will display their talents before a home crowd Tuesday, when they face the CCAL All-Stars. This group, made up of the top high school talent in the area, should provide first-rate opposition for the Panthers.

The Panthers appear powerful in the field events but drop off considerably in the track events. Ivan Hartsell leads a talented field crew as a pole vault specialist. His leap of 13 feet, three inches ranks with the best in national junior college circles. Ron Ross, Roger King, Jim Stireman, Herb Nasalund and Bob Harrison are other outstanding performers.

Ross nabbed first place in the high jump at the Coast conference relays, while Stireman took first in the discus and the broad jump. Harrison was a close second in the shot put. King is still hampered by a knee ailment but should prove to be one of the best high jumpers in the state.

Ross and Dick Hardy looked good in the hurdle events at the relays, but the sprints and the distance races seem dismal for the future.

Wet weather has hampered early track meets and it is not known just who will participate for the All-Stars.

Many Contests Planned During Easter Vacation

A busy vacation for Hartnell athletes will see all the spring sports in action. The Hartnell golfers start things off at a meet with Monterey Peninsula college and College of the Sequoias at Monterey Tuesday. Then they play San Jose J.C. on April 7 again on April 10, with the first match at San Jose and the second at Hartnell. Remaining in Salinas, they host MPC on the 14th and then travel to Monterey on the 17th.

The Panther track squad has two meets scheduled. They travel to Stanford on April 5, to take on the Indian frosh, then return home to entertain MPC and Menlo in a triangular meet.

Coach Jess Regli's nine hosts the San Jose State frosh April 4, and plays East Contra Costa at Concord April 12.
